

LETTER DEMANDS MONEY

C. Lazzaroni of Waukegan, is Recipient of a Most Threatening Letter

DEMAND WAS FOR $4,000

Second Cousin of Mr. Lazzaroni Suspected of Deed—Chicago Police are Working on the Case

Coupled with the sensational statement to the effect that the life of Charlotte Lazzaroni, an eighteen year old young woman living in Waukegan, had been threatened if her father, C. Lazzaroni, did not turn over a sum of money to the Black Hand, comes the equally startling statement from members of the girl's family, that it is their belief that the letter was not sent out by some unknown member of the Black Hand, but that, startling as it may seem, it was sent by a second cousin of the girl's father, who had formerly made threats of violence.

Investigation into the case would seem to show that there was some mistake made with regard to the name, for instead of the girl's name being "Charlotte" as alleged in the letter, Mrs. Lazzaroni is quite certain that her daughter Olga was meant in the threat. She was recently married to Tony Lencioni of Highland Park, where she is living at present. The mother can attribute no cause for the threat to have been made on her daughter's life for as she said, she did not know that she had an enemy in the world.

According to the story told by the Lazzaroni family, their second cousin came to this country a few years ago and at once sought their aid. His wife died a short time before and he had been left with the care of two small boys.

Thus it was, according to the story that is told by the Lazzaroni family, that he was taken in and cared for. It seems that he was not satisfied with this and that he was ever on the lookout for trouble.

In the store owned by C. Lazzaroni at that time there was a young man working by the name of Rafael Gomboni, it is said that the cousin envied the position and sought in every way in his power to get him discharged in order that he might get the place.

It is said that he complained to his cousin that Gomboni was eating up too much candy and that he was smoking the best cigars in the store. Mr. Lazzaroni, the proprietor, did not pay any attention to this for a long time because he understood the motive that prompted it.

At last, it is said, the cousin who wanted the position, broke up some of the best cigars and throwing them away, cast the suspicion upon Gomboni. The ruse worked and Gomboni was discharged, the position going to the plotting cousin.

Everything went along all right for a time but at last he seemed to tire of work and it is said that he did not pay attention to the business. Meanwhile his two small sons were working in the store and all were living at the home of the cousin and were not paying any board or lodging.

Mr. Lazzaroni at last tired of this and told his cousin that he did not need his services any longer. Then the cousin is said to have flown into a rage and demanded the money for the work his two sons had done in the store. Mr. Lazzaroni said he was perfectly willing to do this providing his cousin would pay for their board during the time that they had been staying at his home.

A lawsuit followed but nothing over came of it.

The cousin left the city soon after that and is said to have made threats before leaving that he would get even with them for not giving him money.

They say that he is desperate and that he would stop at nothing to gain his ends, when he is in need of money as they think he is at present. They say he would not stop to consider that he is placing his own life in danger. The family will take precautions to see that the daughter is hidden for a time at least.

Pitch-Inners and Crawl-Outers.
There are two classes of people in the world, the Pitch-Inners and the Crawl-Outers. We do not commonly use the term, yet everyone will recognize the faithfulness of the classification. Test it. Present a good cause, a hard duty, a difficult proposition (everything these days is a "proposition") to a group of men. They will divide like oil and water. There will be a minority who will discern the opportunity and crawl in; the majority most likely will crawl out.—Zion's Herald

FALL PROVES TO BE FATAL

August Alstrom of Waukegan, Falls While Descending Stairs

August Alstrom, said to be a well known resident of Waukegan, fell down a flight of stairs leading up into the Nordstrom tailoring establishment, just north of the city offices on Washington street, Friday evening near 7:30, the injuries thus received causing his death at the hospital early Saturday morning.

The aged man, according to Mr. Nordstrom, had spent a few moments with him and had started to descend the stairs when he tripped and fell headlong down to the first floor, where he was later picked up and carried into the tailoring establishment by employees of the saloon on the first floor, and Nordstrom.

He was later placed in the Larson & Conrad ambulance and conveyed to the hospital.

Upon his arrival at the hospital, Dr. Knight and Boynton were in attendance, and although every means known to medical science was used, internal injuries were found which later caused the man's death.

Alstrom was a widower, his wife having died a few years prior to his death. He has one son living on George avenue who is employed at the machine shop of the American Steel and Wire Company.

It is thought the man's death was brought on by a fractured skull.

MARRIED AT CROWN POINT IN OCTOBER

Mr. William Barthel and Miss Myrtle Turnock, both well known young people of this vicinity, sprung quite a surprise on their many friends the latter part of last week by announcing that they had taken upon themselves the matrimonial vows, the nuptial knot having been tied at Crown Point, Ind., on the third day of October, 1907.

The young people decided to keep the matter a secret for a time, and so well did they succeed that not even their immediate families had an inkling of the affair until the time came when they chose to take others into their confidence. At first their friends were inclined to believe the story only a joke, but when it was confirmed by the contracting parties they lost no time in showering congratulations upon the happy couple.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turnock of Salem, and is a most popular and accomplished young lady and has a host of friends who wish her a long and happy wedded life. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Barthel of Antioch and is a young man of exemplary habits and well worthy of the bride he has chosen.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Barthel will reside at the home of the bride's parents but expect to begin housekeeping at this place in the near future.

The News joins with their many friends in wishing them many long years of joy and happiness together.

L. E. LAMB OF CAMP LAKE DIES FROM OPERATION

The well known and popular hotel proprietor and postmaster at Camp Lake, Mr. L. E. Lamb, passed away at a hospital in Chicago on Thursday morning of last week. He had been ailing for some time and a week ago last Friday was taken to the hospital and operated upon and it was then found that he was suffering from many small tumors in the stomach.

For about a week after the operation he made a gallant fight for recovery and the best medical skill was called to his aid but to no avail and on Thursday of last week he succumbed to the disease and passed to the great beyond.

Mr. Lamb was a native of Ireland, having been born in that country fifty-eight years ago. After coming to America he for some time resided in Chicago and later came to Camp Lake and started in the hotel business. His genial disposition won for him many friends in the community and his popularity as a host was unsurpassed. For some time he has served as postmaster at Camp Lake and at all times gave the best of satisfaction in this capacity.

No leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father his wife, one son Edward, and two daughters Lillian and Florence, besides many warm friends who sincerely mourn his demise.

The funeral took place on Saturday last at the Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago.

Agent Wisdom.

It has been said that "wise men say nothing in dangerous times," and Swift, the greatest of English satirists, with provision, remarked that "wisdom is a hen, whose cackling we must value and consider because it is attended with an egg, but then, lastly, it is a nut which, unless you choose with judgment, may cost you a tooth and pay you with nothing but a worm."

DID HE ATTEMPT SUICIDE?

John Clinton, Formerly of Zion Found in Hotel Room With Gas Jet Open

IS BELIEVER IN "FAITH CURE"

His Story as Brought Out by Interview Throws Little Light on the Cause of Condition

John Clinton, a former Zion resident and a staunch believer in the "faith cure," was found in an unconscious condition in one of the rooms on the third floor of the Edmund Hotel, Waukegan, Friday evening by Officer Neeley of the Waukegan police force.

Clinton, according to the hotel register, made his appearance at the hotel on Thursday evening at about 10 o'clock and applied for a room. He was given the room on the third floor and departed for it, where it is thought he went directly to bed.

Friday morning Clinton failed to answer the call for breakfast and but little was thought of this as when he had taken the room he did not leave any directions for the night clerk.

At noon he failed again to make any appearance and again at night. After the last call for supper Captain Sapli of the hotel became somewhat alarmed, according to reports, and not long after this one of the lady attendants at the hotel is reported as having notified the desk clerk that she believed there was a leak in one of the gas pipes on the third floor, as she smelled gas. The clerk investigated but found everything all right, with the exception of the room that had been given to Clinton.

The police were notified and officer Neeley sent to the hotel. Upon his arrival the door of the room was forced and Clinton was found in an unconscious condition, a gas jet in the room having been turned wide open.

The Larson & Conrad ambulance was summoned and the unconscious man taken to the Jane McAlister hospital, where Dr. Gourley was waiting.

After two hours of hard work the victim was awakened and Saturday morning, when seen by a reporter, he stated that he did not know how it all happened and that he did not know whether he had turned the gas on in the room or not.

Clinton stated that he had worked all winter for Mr. Shawley, who operates a farm west of Zion city, and that he had left his bed and board just the day before. He had contemplated leaving for Zion City where he has made his home for the last three years.

Clinton left the hospital early Saturday afternoon upon the consent of Dr. Gourley, although he had before made the statement that he would not stay in the place a minute longer, as he did not believe in them or in physicians.

On first learning of the accident, people around Waukegan feared that the man attempted suicide, but facts look somewhat suspicious, although his statement may be correct.

The Proper Term.

Knox—You and Dr. Jones are partners, are you not?

Dr. Smith—Oh, no. We often consult together and attend to each other's patients in case of absence, but we are in no sense partners.

Knox—I see. He is what might be termed your accomplice.—Chicago News.

MAY DEPORT ALIENS

Law Says if They Become Paupers in First Year Here They Must Go Back

WAUKEGAN HAS MANY

Deposit Money With Bankers of Own Kind Who Ship Savings Back to Old Country For Owner

With the factories running short time and short handed aliens at Waukegan who are not skilled mechanics but are employed as laborers and roughabouts in factories are unable to obtain employment and as a result they become dependent on the city or county.

There is talk of deporting the many aliens who are dependent on the city or county. There is a law which compels the steamship companies that bring these people to this country to return them if within the first year of their residence they become impoverished. It is claimed that if these aliens who are dependent upon the city or county were rounded up and sent to their native homes the city or county would be ahead.

When these people have work, they send nearly all of their earnings to the old country and there it is placed in banks to their credit to await the return of the owner who only goes to America to earn a thousand or two dollars and then returns to his native land to live in comfort for the balance of his life. Out of their wages, be it $1.50 or $1.75 a day, these aliens keep barely enough to live on in the most economical style and the balance is placed with a banker to be sent to the old country. When these aliens are thrown out of employment they are without money or food and they call on the city or county to aid them even though they have money on deposit in banks in their native country.

ITALIAN THUG ROBBS FARMER

Works Two Weeks as Hired Man and Robs While Pretending Illness

Charles Barnstable, a prominent farmer northeast of Gages Lake, last week lost by robbery checks and currency to the amount of $200 and the police of Lake county are looking for a short dark man with a dark mustache and light cap.

Two weeks ago Barnstable hired an Italian through a Chicago agency. The man gave his name as Barry and acted all right until the robbery took place. Barry was employed as a farm hand and around 2 o'clock, while working with Barnstable, he complained of feeling ill and declared that he would stop work and go up to the house.

Barnstable agreed that it would be all right and the Italian went to the farm house. When Barnstable came in at 3 or 4 and went up to the house to find out how his man was, he found that the invalid had cleared out and with him had gone $200 in bills and checks.

The police of Grayslake and surrounding villages were busy at night on the case, but no trace of the Italian was found and he is still at large.

Mr. Barnstable found his pocket book Friday in his own barn. Sixty dollars in cash was gone, but checks and papers remained and Mr. Barnstable is congratulating himself that Barry, the alleged thief, did not fire luckier.

BACHELOR GIRLS GIVE LEAP YEAR PARTY

On Monday evening of this week, the bachelor girls of Antioch gave a leap year party to a few of their gentlemen friends, at the home of Miss Elizabeth Webb on Maine street.

Extensive preparations were made to entertain the guests in a manner befitting the occasion and the evening was one long to be remembered by those present.

It being leap year the young ladies were according to custom, the escorts of the evening and each one decided who their partner might be by drawing a name from a hat. In order that their ladies might be conducted to the party in proper style and splendor they procured the services of a coupe and liveried coachman, and each one in turn called for the lady of their choice.

Some very elaborate costumes were purchased for the occasion, among the most noticeable being that of Miss G. Gollwitzer who was dressed in green and yellow and wore a stunning picture hat of white daisies. Also Miss C. Lux who wore an imported Parisian gown of brown cloth completed with a large black creation trimmed with sweeping brown plumes. And also Miss B. Ames who was handsomely attired in black broadcloth and displayed a most beautifully marcelled coiffure. The other young ladies, among whom were the Misses C. Webb, J. Brogan, C. Brogan, E. Salin and B. Overton, were all beautifully gowned and conducted themselves in a most lady like manner. The young gentlemen appearing in well evening suits of black broadcloth.

The evening was most pleasantly spent in cards, music and dancing, and about midnight a bounteous luncheon was served after which some time was spent in music and social conversation. At a late hour all departed for their homes declaring this party to have been the most enjoyable of the season, and hoping that the bachelor girls might see fit to give many more, before the close of 1908.

TREASURER AMES GOES AFTER CONVENTION

When County Treasurer Fred Ames left Sunday for Springfield to attend the convention of state treasurers. He went armed "for bears." He went there determined to have the convention vote to hold its first formal convention following organization, in Waukegan next year.

He carried a letter from the Waukegan Commercial club asking him to do what he could to get the convention here and he also carried a bunch of badges, "Waukegan 1909" which he was to give to delegates and ask them to work for Waukegan as the meeting place. He felt that Waukegan stood a good chance of landing the honor.

Abelard and Heloise.

Heloise was noted as much for her intellectual ability as for her personal beauty. She was familiar with the literature of four or five languages—Italian, French, Greek, Latin and Hebrew. Her knowledge was remarkable, her conversational powers were brilliant. It was her bright mind and varied learning that first attracted the attention of Abelard. Abelard died 1142, Heloise 1164. First buried at St. Marcel, Abelard's remains were shifted several times, but finally reached the well-known tomb at Pere-la-Chaise, wherein also rest the ashes of Heloise.—New York American

FIND A CHECK CASH IT

Brothers Think They Have a Right to Paper They Found

ARRESTED IN WAUKEGAN

Police Make Clever Capture by Getting the Alleged Culprits out of Bed at Two in the Morning

Finding a check for $135, along the Northwestern railroad tracks the day a Waukegan mail pouch missed the train catcher and was ground to pieces beneath the wheels of the train, Frank Stasiulewicz three weeks ago took his brother John and left for Chicago where he spent $51 for three suits of clothes at a store kept by E. J. Lehman on Ashland avenue between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth streets.

Saturday morning at 2 o'clock the two brothers were arrested at their rooms at 223 South Sheridan road and are now facing trial on the serious charge of having obtained money under false pretenses.

The check that Frank Stasiulewicz picked up on or near February 11, the day the pouch was wrecked, was for $135 and is said to have been made out by William Watson to his mother, Mrs. Watson. It was not indorsed properly.

When the two brothers offered the check to Lehman three weeks ago he ran with it to a neighboring bank, where it was examined, it is said, and declared all right, so Lehman cashed it for the $51 sale and gave the two men the change.

Friday the check came back from the bank as valueless and then Lehman got busy.

Friday afternoon he telephoned to Chief Tyrrell and fled the information he had at hand with the local police. He knew the two brothers for years he said, as they belonged to the same lodges as he did, the Knights of Columbus in Chicago, and that is why when they offered the check he trusted them.

He came to Waukegan on a late train Friday night and as a result the two culprits were routed out of their beds and put under arrest early Saturday morning by Captain Vogel.

Frank Stasiulewicz, who is 27, at once admitted finding the check on the tracks when interviewed. He said he thought that because he had found it and could not find the owner he had a right to cash it and spend the proceeds. He has been in this country nine months and is a Lithuanian.

The brother John is 17 and has been in this country three years. He said he thought it was all right to cash the check and take the money and joined in with his brother in spending it.

The younger of the two brothers declared that he too had picked up papers and letters along the tracks and that they are home in his trunk. Saturday morning, accompanied by a police officer, he was forced to raid his own trunk and the papers, which are believed to be of value, are in the hands of the police.

The two prisoners were removed to Chicago where warrants will be issued against them and they will be tried.

MARBLE SUED FOR $20,000

Monday Attorney B. H. Miller of Waukegan, filed suit for George W. Koeth, village clerk of Fox Lake, against Converse Marble, of that place, asking $20,000 damages for libel.

The case is the outgrowth of the references made by Marble at the time the action was started against the village officers whereby a demand was made to open up the records, etc., and Koeth claims Marble said things libelous against him.

DIRECTORS HELD NOT LIABLE.

Clear Cut Decision Made by Judge Thompson at Charleston.

Charleston.—The only federal jurist ever under indictment in a criminal case, Peter S. Grosscup, was freed from that position when Judge Thompson denounced the action of the Coles county grand jury in holding the directors of the Mattoon City railway liable for the deaths of 18 persons in a wreck on their line as unjustified and unwarranted.

In a sweeping oral opinion, based upon broad and general grounds as well as upon legal faults, he quashed all the indictments against the officers and directors of the corporation. Because of technical errors Judge Thompson also discharged the two motormen who were in control of the ill-fated cars; but because of the public standing of the directors and the legal issues as to their responsibility their release is regarded as the most important phase of the decision.

FOR PERFECT SOUP

IT MUST NEVER BE ALLOWED TO BOIL HARD.

Old-Time Recipe for One Kind That Has Been Highly Praised—Deviled Kidneys and Other Chafing Dish Specialties.

In Goldsmith's amusing essay on that imaginary character, Mr. Thos. Clibber, he speaks of his fondness for the good things of this life. He loved good clothes and good living, and was not too particular how he obtained them. In his old age he ate oysters and green peas and drank gravy soup when he could get it.

To make this soup take six pounds of shin of beef and a large knuckle of veal, to which quantity of meat allow six quarts of boiling water. If any trimmings of poultry can be had so much the better. For the flavor there must be two slices of lean ham of the best quality. Further, have a quarter of a pound of butter, four carrots, four onions, one turnip, a small head of celery, one blade of mace, a bunch of savory herbs, five cloves, nine pepper-corns; salt to taste and add three good lumps of sugar. Cut the meat into pieces of three inches square, put the butter into the soup boiler and slightly brown the meat, stirring up the pieces from below with a wooden spoon. Be very careful not to let them burn in the least. When slightly browned stir in the boiling water, and as the steam rises at once take it off.

When no more steam is thrown up put in the vegetables and spices. The soup must now simmer gently for six hours, and there should be no further stirring up from the bottom. When the six hours have passed remove it from the stove, let it settle, skim off the fat as well as can be done now, and then pass the soup through a cloth or strainer. Every particle of fat can be taken off when quite cold. Now carefully take off the clear soup without moving the sediment that remains, which should not be wasted, but used for gravies for poultry.

The art of making good soup is in never allowing it to boil hard. Flavoring is one essential, and if in making this soup both be attended to all will agree that Mr. Thos. Clibber was a man of good taste.

Deviled kidneys are prepared by taking two fresh, firm lamb kidneys, washing and skinning them, cutting them open in the usual way and fastening the sides back with tiny skewers. Then take a lump of butter and beat in a chafing dish until it is very hot. Put in the kidneys, cook them three or four minutes, turning from side to side. Then turn the side up and put a bit of butter in the center of each, sprinkle over a little salt, some paprika, mustard and chopped parsley.

Risotto is made by using a quarter pound of cooked rice, one small onion finely chopped, butter, some grated cheese, pepper and salt. Put the onion in the chafing dish with the butter and fry until it begins to brown. Then add the rice and a cup of good soup stock. When the stock has been absorbed and the rice seems tender but firm, stir in the salt, pepper, and cheese. A little garlic is said to improve the flavor of the risotto, which is an Italian dish.

Shrimps cooked with rice are appetizing and easily prepared. Take half a pint of fresh shrimps and pick them over carefully. Melt a large piece of butter in the chafing dish, stir in half an onion chopped fine, add a half cup of cold hotted rice, half a cup of sweet cream, the shrimps, a tablespoonful of tomato ketchup and let the whole cook gently for a few minutes, then serve in hot plates or on crisp slices of toast.

Macaroni De Bos.

One pint of oysters, one stock of celery, liquor from one can of tomatoes, one-half pound of American cheese, one package of macaroni, one-quarter pound butter, salt and pepper to taste. Boil the macaroni for 30 minutes, blanch in cold water; prepare liquor from oysters and tomatoes, cut celery fine and boil until celery is tender. Throw in the oysters and allow the edges to curl. Have macaroni in large baking dish and put all together. Put on broken or grated cheese and mix thoroughly. Place little lumps of butter over the top and allow to bake to a golden brown.

When the Clock Stops.

Take it down, screw off the back, blow in it to take out some of the dust. See that the pendulum is straight, have a little kerosene in a cup, dip a straw in the oil so that about one drop will adhere to it. Apply the oil to the frame where the axle comes through, putting about one drop on each axle at back and face of works. Also put a few drops on the small wheel where the pendulum swings from. Screw on back, set clock back in place, start it, and it will run for a year or two.

Cream Flinn-Huddle.

Take one-half pound of flinn-had die, pluck apart, and cook in one heaping tablespoonful of butter till heated through; then stir in one tablespoonful of flour, moistened in one cupful of cream, or rich milk, and let it cook for five minutes; add the yolk of one egg, a dash of pepper, and one teaspoonful of grated cheese. When smooth serve immediately on hot toast and garnish with parsley.

Cranberry Frappe.

Stow one quart of berries with one-half cup of water. Strain, add to the juice two cups of sugar and the juice of one lemon. Serve in cups with strips of candied orange peel on top.

Report of Chicago State Banks.

An echo of the financial storm is found in the recapitulation of the condition of the state banks in the city of Chicago, issued by State Auditor McCullough. The statement shows the condition of the 44 state banks in Chicago on February 15 last. As compared with the affairs of the same institutions November 19 last, a decrease of $26,829,210 is shown in the aggregate loans and discounts, which on February 15 were $228,060,309. The trouble experienced by the Chicago banks in securing cash from their eastern depositaries is shown in the increase in the amount due them from other banks. On February 15 the amount due from national banks was $35,745,935, an increase of $11,596,579. In addition there was due the Chicago institutions from state banks and bankers $16,324,353, an increase of $4,868,031. While the deposits fell off approximately $13,000,000 during the flurry, the surplus fund was increased $1,693,881.

Lawyers Get Evidence.

Attorneys for the state in the suit against the Economy Light and Power company are busy taking depositions relative to the case. Mr. Fitch of the attorney general's office, Merritt Starr, special counsel, and former Congressman Reeves are busy engaged in securing evidence to prove the deficiencies of a navigable stream. Fitch is in Taxco, Starr is working at Joliet and Reeves is taking a deposition of Congressman Burton at Washington.

Requisition for Munn.

A requisition was issued from the executive office for the return to Litchfield of Robert Munn, under arrest at Denver, Col., on a charge of murder. Assistant State's Attorney Statler of Montgomery county secured the papers and Sheriff Bray and State's Attorney Hill of the same county left immediately for Colorado. Munn is wanted for the killing of William Kaethe on July 4, 1905, at Litchfield.

Authorities Criticized.

Residents at Barry reported to the state board that the authorities there were not enforcing vaccination in the schools despite an outbreak of smallpox. A communication will be sent to the authorities calling their attention to the matter and insisting that the rule be kept.

To Speak for Local Option.

One speaker each week until election has been agreed upon by the Litchfield local option organization as the proper number of orators in their fight against the liquor interests. Among those who will make addresses are Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trickett of Kanans and John P. Canen, head of the Catholic Total Abstinence society. The women of the city are also active and a committee from each church met to promote a temporary organization, which will be perfected at a later meeting.

Pass State Law Examination.

The state board of law examiners reported the following named persons as having satisfactorily passed the examination for admission to the bar held at Ottawa on February 25 and 26: William F. Ater, Walter Bachrach, William C. Bacon, John Borden, Charles Nickerson Caldwell, Paul Carpenter, Carroll Caruthers, Bert Martin Cavanagh, Lincoln R. Clark, Lawrence A. Cohen, Henry Dvorak, Clint C. Hine, George H. Hough, W. H. Jackson, Byron V. Kanaley, Chester Arthur Legg, Alexander Pittman Lindsay, Wayland Wells Magee, Joseph D. O'Donnell, John H. Passmore, Jesse Quitman, Neal D. Reardon, Frank P. Schelner, Emil Seldenglanz, Marshall Solberg, Hyman Soboroff, Harold G. Spurling, Charles P. Starke, Samuel A. Strauss, Chicago; W. G. Armstrong, Dixon; Alexander Falconer Beaubien, Waukegan; Edward R. Branson, Petersburg; Mallory L. Burroughs, Edwardsville; James Stewart Clarke, Staunton; William Debusk, Park Ridge; Guy P. Denton, Effingham; James Dwight Dickerson, Evanston; Ezra J. Frantz, Decatur; Charles S. Gibbs, Springfield; James P. Graham, Illinois; Victor R. Griggs, Kewanee; Eugene F. Hargot, Fairfield; James V. Holdingor, Fairfield; George Arthur Kelly, Ottawa; Edward L. Maher, Venice; William Charles McNitt, Evanston; Ira Rymer, Wilmette; Arthur J. Tripp, Belvidere.

Plan "Board of Control."

There is every indication that the legislature, when it reconvenes May 4, will be given an opportunity to solve the asylum muddle by the simple expedient of passing the proposed "board of control" bill. Every member of the legislature's asylum investigating body, after a month of delving into the institution and its abuses of all sorts, favors such a plan. It is understood that such a measure as outlined by Representative David Shanahan, chairman of the house appropriation committee, is being drawn up roughly and will receive the official indorsement of the committee. With all the members of the investigating body in Chicago recently, a general summing up of the evidence in hand took place and the board of control idea was advanced as the best method of preventing the abuses which have been uncovered during the course of the present probe.

Knocks Out Double Taxation.

The Illinois supreme court holds that the local school boards in six districts of Cook county and the township boards controlling the high schools in the same districts have no authority to levy each a tax of 2 1/2 per cent. or a total of five per cent. on one district. The high schools affected are those of Barrington, Palatine, Maywood, Riverside, Blue Island and Morgan Park. They are controlled by a township board superimposed upon the school district, which is regulated by the local board. The law provides that members of a township board have equal powers with school directors. The supreme court holds that while the boards are legal, the attempt of each to levy a tax of 2 1/2 per cent. under the law is unwarranted.

Templeton Would Be Auditor Again.

James W. Templeton, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor in 1888, when Joseph Flier of Bloomington was nominated for governor, has announced his candidacy for that office again, this time in the primaries and against Auditor McCullough. He has secured a long list of names in support of his candidacy and says that Auditor McCullough, having served 12 years in the office, should not ask for four more. "I could have been nominated in 1888," he said, "if it had not been that Mr. Flier and I both were from McLean county at that time, and his nomination put the nomination of another man from that county out of the question."

County Treasurers Meet.

County treasurers from all over the state gathered in Springfield to organize a permanent association. The meeting proper was held on Wednesday, but a preliminary session of the promoters of the project was held Monday, when the program was completed and final details for the convention arranged. W. H. Eubanks, chief clerk in the office of the auditor of public accounts, addressed the convention and County Treasurer James A. Hall of Sangamon county was another speaker.

Digest of Oglesby Act.

A pocket digest of the Oglesby primary election law is being prepared by Attorney General Stead's department. The essential features of the act, appropriately subdivided and headed, will be embodied in the digest, together with suggestions to officers and voters as to how to proceed under its requirements. Rulings and opinions by the attorney general's office will be included. The digest will be ready for distribution in about three weeks and will be supplied to election officers and voters generally.

LOST TEMPER WAS COSTLY.

Poet Banker Threw Away and Bought Back His Own Property.

Edmund Clarence Stedman, the poet banker, had a high temper and was exceedingly sensitive. One day, exasperated by the crass stupidity of a servant, he threw a book at his head. The boy ducked and the book sailed out of the window. After it hurried the mental, but he was too late; a passerby had picked it up and walked off with it. Stedman began to wonder what book he had thrown away, and to his horror discovered that it was a quaint and rare little volume for which he had paid $50. His chagrin was intense, as the work was almost unique and the prospects of replacing it were remote.

Some time afterward, when browsing in a second-hand book shop, our splenetic poet banker perceived to his great delight a copy of the very book he had lost. He asked the price. "It's very rare," replied the dealer, "but as you are an old customer I'll let you have it for $40; nobody else could have it for less than $60." Stedman gladly paid the $40, got home with his treasure, as soon as possible, and sat down to glaze over it. A card dropped out of the leaves. It was his own. Further examination showed that he had bought back his property. It cured him of casting books at servants' heads.—New York Press.

Sunday School Lessons for the World.

A power greater than that of kings seems to have been wielded by the little group of thoughtful men who gathered at the Fenway residence of W. N. Harbison to select the lessons for the Sunday schools of the world, says the Boston Herald. Every year they gather to make this choice, and when a decision has been reached the lessons are handed out to the printers and by them literally scattered over the planet. The word thus goes forth not in one but in scores of languages. Europe and Africa, east and west, north and south, get these helps to religious study in the vernacular. There is a supply for Hawaii, Japan and the islands of the sea. For India alone 40 dialects have to be provided for. Some 500,000,000 Sunday school leaflets are thus distributed every year.

With an Eye to the Future.

Queen Alexandra attended last spring's annual Mansion House fete in London, and because of that auspicious fact there is a tale to tell—and worth the while. One of the diminutive flower maidens was both pretty and plump, and when her majesty stopped for an instant to smile down upon her, what did she do but put up her woe (and tempting) mouth for a kiss, which she received.

"Molly!" gasped her astounded mother, and after the distinguished visitor had passed on, "how could you!"

"And Molly gave a good reason. 'I fought,' said she. 'It 'ud be interest in' to tell my grandchildren.'—Harper's Weekly.

Wonderful Phraseology.

A party of American tourists who were comfortably established in a hotel in Germany discovered a new contribution to "English as she is spoke," only this time they found it in the written word. The building had been recently wired for electricity and under the bulbs in each room directions were posted in French, German and English. The French was irreproachable, the German nearly so. The English read as follows: "To open and shut the lightning electrical on, is requested to turn to the right hand. On going to bed it must be closed. Otherwise the lightning must be paid."

Where it Belongs.

"Excuse me," said the playwright to his friend who was hissing the piece, "do you think it is good form to hiss my show when I gave you the ticket that admitted you?"

"Certainly," recently replied the friend. "If I'd bought a ticket I would have contented myself by going outside and swearing at myself."—Success Magazine.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Spencer Edward D. Shurtliff has announced his withdrawal from the race for the republican nomination for governor. This leaves Mr. Yates, Mr. Deane and Judge William M. McEwan in the fight. Judge McEwan will not withdraw at present, according to his friends.

Nearly three hundred New York clergymen have petitioned congress not to increase the navy, arguing that the United States now pays 65 per cent of its revenues for its military establishment. And yet, there are those who believe that at least a competent military establishment is the surest preventive of war. The President is one of these, and Secretary Taft is another.

Up to Sunday, February 23, seventy-six delegates had been elected to the Republican National Convention. Of that number forty-eight are instructed for Taft, twenty-six for Fairbanks and two are uncommitted. Only fourteen delegates from Ohio had been elected and all are instructed for Taft. The remaining thirty-four Taft delegates come from states other than Ohio. No candidate other than Taft has thus far secured any delegate outside of his own state. The gentlemen in public life who have been talking about the collapse of the Taft boom have begun to take notice.

Every civil service reformer in the United States ought at once to write a protest to his member of congress and his senator against the purpose of congress to ignore civil service methods in organizing the census bureau. The President has protested most earnestly and the people should uphold his hands. Don't be deceived, either, by the specious assertion that no clerk will be admitted who does not pass an examination. This was true of the last census, and yet, as the President has said, the examinations were a mere sham to hide a gross prebendation of the spoils system.

There seems to be little doubt that the Shipping bill will become a law at this session of congress. This is another measure which has always suffered from the character of the men who have promoted it. This year's measure is free from serious faults and is so simple and straightforward that republicans will do well to support it. It merely authorizes the postmaster general to pay the same rates for carrying the mails, to second class vessels making regular sailings between this country and South American and Asiatic ports as he now pays to first class vessels sailing to all ports. Second class means, of course, vessels making a second—not the fastest—rate of speed.

That submarine boat business looks like an extremely unenviable mess. Two newspapers correspondents have been enriched, and there is reflection on most of the members of the House committee on Naval Affairs. It is sincerely to be hoped that Speaker Cannon will abandon his attitude of belittling the affair and will appoint a committee which will probe it to the bottom. President Roosevelt, when he found that he had inherited a postoffice scandal from a previous administration, demonstrated that the best politics in the world is to probe a festering sore to the bottom, make public all the facts, expose the culprits and then have a new deal. It takes a big, courageous man to adopt that course, but the heartiness with which the people endorsed Mr. Roosevelt's course in 1904, demonstrated the soundness of his methods. The American people love the open frank, manly course and politicians would do well to realize that fact.

IN MEMORIAM

I loving remembrance of H. J. Middleton who died Feb. 10, 1908:

Farewell dear father, sweet thy rest,
Weary with years and worn with pain;
Farewell, till in some happy place
We shall behold thy face again.

'Tis ours to miss thee all these years,
And tender memories of thee keep;
Thine, in the Lord to rest, for so
He giveth his beloved sleep.

M. E. B.

In memory of little George, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Evans, of Trevor, Wis., who departed this life January 27, 1908, aged 5 years:

I shall miss him when the flowers come,
In the garden where he played;
I shall miss him more by the fireside
When the flowers are all decayed.
I shall see his toys and his empty chair,
And the horse he used to ride;
And they will speak with a silent speech
Of the little boy that died.

We shall all go home to our Father's house,
To our Father's house in the skies,
Where the hope of our soul shall have no blight.

And our love no broken ties;
We shall roam on the banks of the River of Peace.

And bath in its blissful tide;
And one of the joys of Heaven shall be
The little boy that died.

Curious Punishment.

Best Healer in the World.

Rev. F. Starbird, of East Raymond, Maine, says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve for several years, on my old army wound, and other obstinate sores, and find it the best healer in the world. I use it too with great success in my veterinary business." Price 25c. at J. H. Swan's drug store.

Kodol is today the best known and most reliable remedy for all disorders of the stomach, such as dyspepsia, heart burn, sour stomach and belching of gas. Kodol contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Kodol is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to give relief and is sold here by J. H. Swan.

Dinner Time.

The dinner bell should be a signal for the happiest time of the day. Every member of the family should go to the table in his most genial mood. Each one should bring his best, brightest and most cheerful things to it. No one should be allowed to complain or relate his or her troubles there. The assembling round the dinner table should be an occasion for the fun and laughter and cheerful talk—the enemies of indigestion.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol For Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach; I lost 25 lbs.; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by J. H. Swan.

Doing Chores.

To dig one's own potatoes, to shock one's own corn, to pick one's own apples, to pile one's own squashes at one's own barn! It is like filling one's system with an antidote before going into a fever-plagued country. One is immune to water after this, provided he stays to bask his apples in his own wood fire. One works himself into a glow with all his digging, and picking and piling that lasts until warm weather comes again; and along with this harvest glow comes stealing over him the after-harvest peace. It is the serenity of Indian summer, the mood of the after-harvest season, upon him—upon him and his fields and woods.—Dallas Lore Sharp, in Atlantic.

Sealskin.

Fifteen years ago a full length sealskin coat could be had for $500 or $600. The same coat to-day would cost from $900 to $1,400. A three-quarter length coat would cost from $700 to $1,200, according to the quality of the fur used.

Mr. John Rihm, of Yining, Ia., says: "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold. There are a dozen people here who have used them and they give perfect satisfaction in every case. I have used them myself with fine results." Sold by J. H. Swan.

Coldest Part of the Day.

The coldest period of the day is sold to be a few minutes after sunrise. This is due to the fact that, when the sun first strikes the earth, it causes the evaporation of a chilling moisture.

Tickling or dry coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else even with very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membrane. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Easy to Swallow Raw Eggs.

Raw eggs are bloodmakers and may be taken in any way one wishes. The simplest method of getting them down is to take a shallow wine glass, put in a drop of clear lemon juice and then break the egg in this, taking care not to injure the yolk. Over this put about four drops of lemon, scattered, to make the egg go down easily with one swallow. This is readily accomplished if the head is held back and the contents of the glass tugged into the back of the mouth. Eight eggs a day are none too much when one is trying to recuperate.

The Lucky Quarter.

Is the one you pay for a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They bring you the health that's more precious than jewels. Try them for headache, biliousness, constipation and malaria. If they disappoint you the price will be cheerfully refunded at J. H. Swan's drug store.

Woman's Chief Weapon.

Woman, having no other means at her disposal for vanquishing and attacking men to her chariot-wheels, has for many long centuries had to rely entirely on coquetry. It is not astonishing, therefore, that this weapon is deeply ingrained in the feminine soul—has become, in fact, an instinct at once conscious and involuntary—and that it now constitutes one of woman's most fundamental characteristics.—The Grand Magazine.

Be careful about that little cough. Get something right away; some good, reliable remedy that will move the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently yet promptly on the bowels and allays inflammation at the same time. It is pleasant to take and it is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by J. H. Swan.

BELTS IN PATENT LEATHER.

Stylish Fashion Has Again Come Into Popular Favor.

Patent leather belts have come into their own again. They are very stylish on all cloth suits. They are very narrow, the stiff ones running only an inch wide, but the mere fashionable ones are in soft leather that fit into the figure and curve in and out at the waist line. These are expensive, but they wear well and are very superior to the stiff ones in shape and in curve.

With the stiff old-fashioned belt there is always the trouble of having it ride up above the skirt belt. It is too unwieldy to go down over it, and no matter how high the skirt is hooked up on the waist, the belt rides that much higher.

These belts do not have fancy buckles or even the broad gilt buckle used on the soft suede belts, but are fastened through plain black ones covered with the kid.

The undressed kid ones are exceedingly stylish and come in every color to tone into the skirt. The buckles on these are narrow and made of gilt or silver, but without jewels.

TO LIGHTEN NORTH ROOM.

Various Devices by Which Apartment May Be Improved.

No one wants a gloomy room, but what to do with one facing north is often a difficult problem.

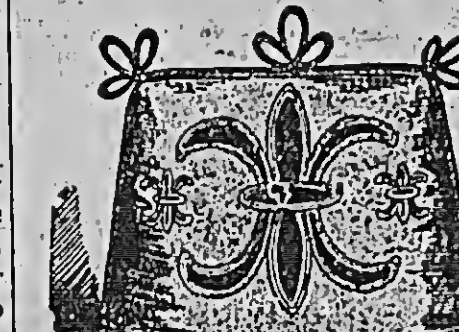

Some people do without curtains to allow all the light possible to come into the room; but it is not so much light that one needs as sunshine, and when this cannot be had, one must make it, or rather, get the effect of it. Try having it papered with a soft yellow paper. A good plan is to have a light yellow on the walls as far as the picture molding, and a lighter shade, almost cream, above this and on the ceiling. Then yellow silk ash curtains pulled back tend to make a room appear sunny, says Home Chat.

Brass can make a wonderful difference to a dreary room. A large jardiniere, with a plant in it, placed in a dark corner, will lighten up the corner marvelously. Brass fireirons too, will give a cheery reflection, even candlesticks help, and little trays and bowls, be they ever so small. The importance of brass in a sunless room cannot be too strongly emphasized. Mirrors brighten it up, and so do some pictures with well polished glasses and gilded frames.

TEA COSY IN APPLIQUE WORK.

Illustration Gives Idea for Very Pretty Table Ornament.

Now that applique work of every kind is so fashionable our readers will, no doubt, be interested in the accompanying illustration, which shows a design for a very novel tea cosy to be decorated entirely with work of this description. The cover itself is of pale green satin, bound at the edges with gold silk cord. The applique designs, which are the same on both sides of the cosy, are carried out in darker green velvet, outlined with gold braid. The large central design is repeated in a smaller size on either side. In an ordinary teapot the cosy should be made about 11 inches wide and 9 inches deep.

For Trimmings.

For as a trimming on dressy wraps of cloth, silk or satin or lace is beautiful. For this use the darker shades and seals are chosen, these contrasting artistically with the faint pinks, delicate blues and soft, creamy whites of the evening wraps and gowns. The delicate toning of the material brings out all the richness of the fur, while the fur enriches the material immeasurably. No great amount, however, is employed for the reason that all tendency to weight is obviated as much as possible, in order to protect the perishable laces, chiffons and spangled nets of the gowns over which the elaborate evening coat is worn. When the fur and fur-lined coat is a part of the evening toilette a soft gauzy scarf is swathed around the shoulders before the coat is slipped on. This keeps the weight of the outer garment off the shoulders and prevents the possibility of muzzling fluffy frills and jabots of laces, chiffon and still more diaphanous malincoettes which so effectively trim evening gowns this winter.

Doing Away with Wrinkles.

A woman—one kind of woman, that is—will resort to almost anything to blot off her face the friendly wrinkles etched by time and experience. The latest device for making the skin of a mature dame smooth and peachy as an infant's is a kind of head grille made of soft salla. This is put on over the face, and is cleverly constructed so that the wrinkles are smoothed out and the skin of the face firmly held from slipping into creases again. Of course one wears this interesting apparatus only at night.

To Reduce the Size of Ankles.

Physical culture exercises are given to reduce the size of the ankles; also massage and vibratory massage are very beneficial.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Here is a Task.

A task. To be honest, to be kind; to earn a little and to spend a little less; to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence; to renounce when that shall be necessary, and not to be obnoxious; to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation; above all, on the same given condition, to keep friends with himself, here is a task for all that man has of fortitude and dexterity.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain everywhere, in 20 minutes! Besides they are thorough safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Sold by J. H. Swan.

All That Was Necessary.

A man who bored all his friends with his incessant talking prided himself on being able to hypnotize people. One day while asserting this and perceiving signs of incredulity on his friends' faces he turned to one of them and said:

"In order to prove it to you I will make you go to sleep if you like."

"Certainly," replied the friend; "you have only to speak."

Not a Good Carver.

"I never was as disappointed in my life!" said Mrs. Gatrox. "I invited a few choice souls to dinner the other day and asked Dr. Cutten, the celebrated surgeon, to carve for me. I expected that he could carve beautifully, and would you believe he actually spalled the fowl! I wouldn't have him operate on me for the world."

Croup positively checked in 20 minutes. Dr. Shoop's 20 minute Croup Remedy acts like magic. No vomiting nothing harsh. A simple, safe, pleasant, dependable croup syrup. 50c. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Pursuit of Pleasure.

Cast an eye into the gay world; what see we, for the most part, but a set of querulous, emaciated, fluttering, fantastical beings, worn out in the keen pursuit of pleasure; creatures that know, own, condemn, deplore, yet still pursue their own infidelity? The decayed monuments of error! The thin remains of what is called delight!

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, small, safe, sure, little liver pills. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Possibilities in Everyone.

Brother, thou hast possibilities in thee for much—the possibility of writing on the eternal skies the record of a heroic life. That noble, down-fallen or yet unborn "Impossibility," thou canst lift it up, thou canst, by thy soul's travail, bring it into clear being.—Carlyle.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn boy growths back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pang of this terrible disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of rheumatism; but now, at last, I can finally cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

TWO CHIEFS LUCKY

SHAH AND PRESIDENT ALICORTA DODGE BOMBS.

PERSIAN EFFORT FATAL

Three of Monarch's Outriders Are Slain While Explosive Tossed at South American Falls to Accomplish End.

Teheran, Persia.—An attempt was made in this city Friday afternoon to assassinate the shah of Persia by a bomb. His majesty was not hurt. Three of the outriders who were accompanying him at the time were killed. The shah owes his escape to the precautions taken to protect him from just such an attempt as was made Friday afternoon. He was on his way to a near-by town where he intended to pass a few days. The procession had left the palace and was traversing a narrow street when two bombs were hurled down at it from the roof of a house. One exploded in the air, but the other struck the ground near the shah's automobile. This missile in exploding killed the three outriders, wounded the chauffeur and a score of bystanders and shattered the vehicle.

The shah, however, was not in his automobile. He had taken the precaution to send the motor car ahead and ride himself in a carriage further in the rear of the procession. The motor car was a closed one, and it was thought that the sovereign was inside.

America Congratulates Him.

Washington.—The shah of Persia Saturday received the congratulations of the American government on his escape from assassination. The message, signed by Secretary Root, was cabled to Minister Jackson at Teheran Friday. "Convey to his excellency hearty congratulations on his fortunate escape."

Outrage in Buenos Ayres.

Buenos Ayres.—A dynamite bomb was thrown Friday against a carriage in which President Alcora was driving, but failed to explode. Four persons were arrested charged with complicity in the plot. Recently there has been political unrest in Argentina owing to the issuance January 25 of an executive decree closing the extraordinary sessions of congress and putting into effect for the current financial year the budget of 1907. Special Grand Jury Returns True Bills Against Them—Plead "Not Guilty."

New York.—Edward R. Thomas and Orlando F. Thomas, who are financiers of extensive interests, were indicted Thursday on charges growing out of their management of the funds of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society, which they controlled. The indictments, which were returned by the special grand jury for New York county, that has been investigating the Provident Life and other financial institutions, are three in number, two being against Edward R. and one against Orlando F. The offenses charged are violations of the state insurance laws and constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $500 or a year's imprisonment, or both, on each count. Late Thursday afternoon the Thomases were arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and were given two weeks in which to change the pleas or demur, meantime being admitted to bail. Justice Dowling fixed bail at $5,000 on each indictment. In the first indictment against E. R. Thomas he is accused of "unlawfully being pecuniarily interested as a beneficiary in a loan from an insurance company doing business in this state of which corporation he was then and there a director." This indictment deals with a loan made by Thomas from the firm of Thomas, Macley & Co., stock brokers. On April 2, 1907, Thomas was a customer of the firm, and indebted to them on demand loans in large sums. At the same time, the indictment alleges, Thomas, Macley & Co. were indebted to other financial institutions, the loans being secured with stock and other securities of Thomas, Macley & Co., and of their customers.

SEEKS CHIEF'S LIFE

PLOTTER ATTEMPTS TO MURDER CHICAGO POLICE HEAD.

ASSASSIN SHOT TO DEATH

Son of Superintendent, However, is Probably Fatally Wounded—Mayor Busse's Life Believed in Danger.

Chicago.—What is believed to be a deep-laid plot to wipe out the entire body of officials in charge of the city administration was brought to light Tuesday, following a sensational attack upon Chief of Police George Shippy. Threats have been made against Mayor Fred Busse, Chief of Police Shippy was stabbed in the right side, his son, Harry, 19 years old, was probably fatally shot in the left lung and his driver, James Foley, was wounded in the right wrist by a desperate assassin who attempted to kill the head of the police department in the front hallway of his home Monday. The assassin was himself killed by the chief, who fired a bullet into his right temple. The assassin is declared to have been an anarchist and leader of a plot aimed at others beside the chief. The man was identified as "F. B. Adams." Mrs. Shippy and the chief's daughter, Georgina, 22 years old, were eye-witnesses of the tragedy. The chief's wife narrowly escaped being killed herself in an effort to prevent the assassin from drawing his revolver. Harry Shippy was rushed to the Augustana hospital, where his condition was said to be precarious. He was operated on immediately, but physicians despaired of saving his life, as he was just recovering from an attack of grip.

The man who attempted to assassinate Chief of Police Shippy, and whom the chief killed, was identified as Lazarus Averbuch, a 20-year-old Russian Jew, who had been in this country only three months. He resided at 218 Washburn avenue with his sister Olga, 25 years old. He had worked a month for W. H. Eichengren & Co., 183 South Water street, a commission house.

Averbuch was an anarchist of a morbid, insane type—a disciple of Emma Goldman, "Queen of the Reds." Inspector Lavin held Edward Bertram, cobbler, 575 West Twelfth street, Tuesday, under suspicion of being implicated with Averbuch. A telephone message from an anarchist to Bertram, saying, "For God's sake get out of town; they're on," overheard by Lieut. Darrow, caused the arrest. Bertram admitted being an anarchist and knowing the assassin of Chief Shippy.

EXPERIENCES AFLOAT

The Funny Things One Sees
in
Smiling Round the World

By
MARSHALL P. WILDER

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

To one accustomed only to Atlantic travel the element of novelty begins at once on a Pacific steamer. Instead of smug English stewards, neat Chinamen in spotless linen gowns of blue, long coats, immaculate white stockings, and the broadest of smiles, fly nimbly about carrying baggage or waiting on passengers with most cheerful disparity.

The Chinese stewards interested us exceedingly, and when, directly after sailing from San Francisco, we descended to luncheon, we saw them in a new way. The long tables in the saloon were laid out invitingly with massive silver and piles of fruit, around which the neat boys whisked, making an attractive picture. Here we received our first introduction to the far-famed "pidgin English," which we had previously conceived to be very largely a fragment of the story-teller's brain. It was to be later impressed upon us how universal the use of it is, from San Francisco right through to Ceylon, wherever the Chinese coolies live and move and has his being.

In the dining saloon the boys wore long gowns of blue linen, shiny with starch, high cuffs over their sleeves, and each smooth, and jetty one flushed at the end with a silk tassel, neatly tucked through a little strap at the side of the gown. This is to keep it from slipping over the shoulder when stooping over the tables.

When at hard or outdoor work, a Chinaman will twist his cue up like a woman, but never in the house, as it is a disrespectful act to appear before a superior with the cue bound up. Foreigners in many cases do not know this, and the Chinaman, who instinctively hates all foreigners, will often resort to this method of insulting them, taking a deal of comfort out of it, even though the foreigner may be in blissful ignorance of the intended disrespect.

Some of the dining-saloon boys had been in the service long enough to speak and understand English very well; with others it was necessary to resort to the "pidgin" dialect which is a ridiculous hybrid of baby talk, broken, or rather mangled, English, and a few stray Chinese words.

It was my luck to draw a waiter who was particularly shy on straight English, and when I asked for a nice piece of rare roast beef, and vegetables such as my wife had, his face remained as blank as a newly white-washed barn door. Seeing my perplexity, a kind neighbor taught me what to say, and, though feeling rather silly, I repeated: "Boy, you ketches me number one piece roast beef, no too well done, and vegetables alloo same lady have got." His face beamed with intelligence, and my order was executed with neatness and dispatch.

I subsequently discovered that if a chair was desired from the upper even keel. It was so different from my first ocean trip, which was across the Atlantic. I'll never forget that I hadn't been feeling well, and was told that the sea voyage would make another man of me. Imagines making another man of me, when there was hardly enough material for one!

Well, the minute the ship left the dock I felt better. I threw out my chest—and a lot of other things I didn't need—and prepared to enjoy life.

By the time we got to Sandy Hook the ship was having St. Vitus dance, and most of the passengers decided to go below to unpack. I started to find my stateroom, and I think I butted into every one there was. I was finally hurried into one just as the occupant, a lady, was climbing into the upper berth. She said, "Sir!" Then the ship went the other way, and I was never so completely sat on by a lady in my life!

At last I found my own stateroom, which was a locker with a couple of shelves in it.

The ship now seemed to stand on her nose and was horrid tall in the air; I deliberated whether I should close the port hole and go to my berth, or close my berth and go to the port hole. On the fourth day I began to take notice of things, and crawled out on deck just as the ship was doing a buck and wing. I was shot from one end of the ship to the other, finishing with a head on collision with a fat man's stomach. He was mad because I butted in on his breakfast. I apologized for the intrusion, and crawled into a steamer chair.

It was so rough they had a fence built round the table to keep the dishes on. I was pursuing a piece of bread when the ship did a "figure eight" and the lady opposite got my bread and I got her fish. For the rest of the meal we fed each other.

The day it was roughest the passengers asked me to get up a concert. There was a prima donna on board who was having her voice cultivated in Paris. I supposed she was going over to get it, for she certainly didn't have it with her. She consented to take part in the concert, and chose a fitting selection for a rough night—"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." Just as she started in to sing the ship side-stepped and throw her under the table. A friend of mine was accompanying her on the piano, so, of course, he had to follow her. I said: "For heaven's sake, is this a concert or a knockabout act?" The prima donna thought she was down for a solo—but she was down for an hour.

On the Pacific there were no such experiences for us. And it is such a great, big, lonesome ocean—only once in all the 18 days did we see a ship, a big, full-rigged ship with all sails set—but seeming to stand perfectly still, utterly becalmed, "a painted ship upon a painted ocean."

Captain Porter was a delightful raconteur and entertained us on several occasions with stories of his sojourn in the rigid zone. His tales of Esquimaux dainties, especially a duck soup, where the bird is put in for cooking not only undressed but unpeeled, made us glad there were no Esquimaux cooks on board.

The evening before our expected arrival at Honolulu the chief topics of conversation were the principal sights of the town, and the best methods of seeing them.

Every one retired with the keenest anticipations, for even six days on the water create a longing to see land, proving that man, though he go down to the sea in ships, is beyond question a land animal.

Most of us were up before dawn and were rewarded by the sight of a dark, low-lying island on our port bow. This is Molokai, the leper island and the scene of Father Damien's heroic life and death. This Belgian missionary priest, who started life a simple unlettered peasant, so lived and worked and died that his name will ever be one of those who need no hall of fame to make their memory immortal. His will go ringing down the halls of time as one that loved his fellow men.

Ahead, another island, with high, rocky promontory, stood out now quite plainly. As we came nearer we could distinguish fleets of little fishing boats, their white sails dotting the blue water like flocks of birds. A snowy white of sand outlined the black and beetling cliff, and around it came the little "Alameda," rolling and plunging in a swell that did not even disturb the stately calm of our galleons.

It was noon before we really warped to the wharf, alongside of which was a United States naval training ship, whose band welcomed us, accompanied by the shouts of the white-clad boys.

WINTER WHEAT CROP

HE REALIZED $38 PER ACRE. HIS OATS $37 PER ACRE IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA, WESTERN CANADA.

Conalale, Alta. Can., Nov. 19, 1907. Sir: I beg to say that this year we had 349 acres of grain, consisting of 197 acres of spring wheat and 152 acres of oats. The average yield of wheat was 38 bushels per acre and oats 74 bushels. We were offered $1.00 per bushel for wheat and 50 cents for oats, making the acre value for the two crops $38.00 and $37.00 respectively.

We also had 50 tons of hay worth $13.00 per ton, and 500 bushels of potatoes, worth 60 cents per bushel, the latter of 2 1/2 acres of ground.

Our best yields this year were 107 acres of wheat, making 41 bushels per acre at $1.00 per bushel, would be $41.00 per acre; 47 acres of oats, yielding 95 bushels per acre were sold for 50 cents per bushel. Proceeds, $47.00 per acre.

I might add that 50 acres of our oats were "stubbled in."

During the spring of 1900, we hired about 300 acres broken by steam. We put in and harvested 55 acres of grain last year, did the remainder of our breaking, worked up the ground and seeded this year's entire crop, put in seven acres of alfalfa and five acres of garden potatoes, trees, etc., all with one four-horse team. During harvest we hired other teams, but aside from this, and part of the breaking, the one team did the work of raising practically 19,000 bushels of grain, worth $12,000.

Yours truly,
W. H. PAWSON, JR.

WINTER WHEAT 25 TO 30 BUSH-ELS TO THE ACRE IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA.

Warner, Alta. Canada, Jan. 9, 1908.

Dear Sir: This is the first year of farming in this settlement. Mr. A. L. Warner raised twenty-five hundred and fifteen bushels of fine winter wheat on one hundred acres of breaking and Tenny brothers had sixty acres that went thirty bushels per acre. The winter wheat that is in this year looks fine.

Spring wheat here went thirty bushels per acre, oats fifty to eighty, barley fifty, and flax ten to fifteen on sod.

The settlers here are all well pleased with the country. The stock have not required any feed except the grass up to this date and are all fat.

Yours truly,
F. S. LEFFINGWELL.

CURED HER CHILDREN.

Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too—Relieved on Cuticura Remedies.

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads which were simply covered. I tried almost everything, but failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment, Cuticura. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on his neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. Mrs. Napoleon Duceppe, 41 Duluth St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

The Flatterer.
The tramp had applied to the farmer's wife for assistance.
"You have a beautiful voice, lady," he said.
She looked interested.

Then she drove back the dog and gave the wanderer half a loaf and a chunk of cold beef.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is like a rubber band closed off, and the sound cannot enter the ear. As a result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. No will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

Damage Done by Rats.

"The western farmer is waking up to a realization of the fact that he is, as the agricultural department told him some time ago, losing not less than $100,000,000 a year from rats," says J. H. Van Burden, a Milwaukee grain merchant. "It costs about 50 cents a year to feed a rat. We know this because we have boxed them up and fed them as much grain as they would eat for a year. It is a conservative estimate to place our rat population at 150,000,000. About one-third of them live in the large cities, where they do not get so much grain."

A young man had been courting a girl for nine years. "Jeanne," he said, one evening, "I read the other day that in 50,000 years Niagara falls would dry up."

Jeanne clutched his arm excitedly.

"Why, what's the matter?" he asked.

"Why, you promised to take me there on our bridal trip. Don't you think you had better be a little careful that it does not dry up before we get there?"

MENU THAT SUITS JACK TAR.

Substantial Fare Given Preference Over Dainty French Dishes.

"Scouse of lob-scouse, a parson's face seuple, junk, tack, slush and duff—there's a meal ye can't beat nowhere," said the sailor.

"Yes," he went on, "ye can talk about yer ris de veau, yer vol-au-vent, yer mousses and other French dishes, but they ain't none o' them in it with good sea fare dished up by a good ten lawyer.

"Scouse is soup, soup made o' salt beef. Add some good sea vegetables to it, slice as spud sprouts and split peas, and ye get an extra fine soup, what is generally called 'lob-scouse. Potatoes is slops beside a rich lob-scouse.

"Foller up yer scouse with a parson's face seuple. That's a pie made of bullock's head. Good? Why, friend, there ain't nothin' like it on earth.

"Junk is salt beef. Junk ain't no brain food; it don't strengthen the mind like a correspondence course; out by far, I'd rather have it than cabotin a la presse or a supreme de sole.

"Tack and slush is the sailor's bread and butter. What if ye do have to break yer tack with a tack hammer, and what if yer slush is sometimes strong enough to queer the compass? Sailors need strong food, for they must do their work."

Don't neglect your cough.

Statistics show that in New York City alone over 200 people die every week from consumption.

STATE PRIMARY LAW

END OF A FOUR MONTHS' FIGHT

Governor Dancy and the Administration Forces Win a Long and Very Hard Struggle.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—After a fight which had continued in the legislature since Oct. 8, 1907, the Forty-fifth Assembly has passed a direct primary bill. The measure passed was known as the Jones-Oglesby bill. It was passed by the senate and sent over to the house which had killed the Shanahan bill. The administration forces led by Governor Dancy and his friends, under the direction of Insurance Commissioner, F. W. Potter and on the floor of the house by representative Morton Hull, lined up for the measure. Every district in the state was canvassed thoroughly from Cairo to Waukegan. Members were rounded up and those who had not expected to be present were urged by their friends to come to Springfield. Amendments to the bill were voted down. When the bill was placed on its passage it was anticipated by its opponents that it would not receive sufficient votes, but on roll-call it had six more than the 77 votes required. When they found that the bill had passed, five members asked to be recorded in favor of it, so that final vote was 82, consisting of 51 Republicans, 31 Democrats and 3 Prohibitionists. The bill will go to the governor for his signature this week.

Under the new measure, candidates for the following offices will be nominated by direct vote: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, auditor of public accounts, attorney general, supreme court clerk, members of congress, members of board of equalization, appellate court clerks, state senators, state representatives and county officers consisting of the state's attorneys, circuit court clerk, county surveyor, coroners and recorders in ten counties.

The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary, as a candidate of a party, for the nomination shall be the candidate of that party for such office and his name shall be placed on the official ballot at the election next ensuing. The following are among the provisions of the bill:

Definition of "Political Party."

A political party which at the general election next preceding the primary polled more than 2 per cent of the entire vote cast in the state is a political party within the state; can nominate candidates for all offices covered by the act. A party which polls 2 per cent of the entire vote within any congressional or senatorial district is declared a party within such district, and shall nominate candidates for congress, state board of equalization and for senatorial offices. A party which has polled per 2 cent of the entire vote in a county is a political party within said county and shall nominate all county officers in said county. A political party that polls a 2 per cent vote in any city or village is a political party within said city or village officers. The same scheme applies to the nomination of town officers and officers of any other political subdivision.

Provision for 1908 Primaries.

The name of no candidate for offices in the scope of the bill shall be placed on the official ballot for the general election in November, 1908, unless the candidate shall have been nominated under the provisions of this act. All nominations made prior to July 1, 1908, of candidates for offices covered by the bill, and to be voted on in November 1908, are declared of no effect.

A primary shall be held Aug. 9, 1908, for the November general election. In succeeding years primaries shall be held on the second Tuesday in April for the nomination of candidates at the June judicial election; on the last Tuesday in February each year, for nominations for elections held on the first Tuesday of April; on the second Tuesday in March for the nominations for the elections held on the third Tuesday in April. Primaries for other offices are to be held three weeks preceding the election.

Polls shall be open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m. Voters may absent themselves from their work for two hours in order to vote. Applications for such absence must be made before the day of primary and the employer may specify the hours.

Party Organization.

The following committees shall constitute the central or managing committees of each political party: A state central committee, a congressional committee for each congressional district, a county central committee for each county, a city central committee for each city or village and a precinct committee for each precinct. Nothing shall prevent a political party from electing other committees in accordance with practice.

The state central committee shall be composed of one member from each congressional district, to be elected at the primaries. Within thirty days after their election the state committee shall meet in Springfield and organize. At the primaries, Aug. 8, 1908, and at the April primaries every two years thereafter each primary elector may write or attach to a space left on the ballot the name of one qualified elector of his party in the precinct for member of the precinct committee. The high man was.

The county committee shall consist of the precinct committeemen in the county.

In a senatorial district of three or more counties, the senatorial committee shall be composed of one member elected from each county in the district. In districts of two counties, it shall consist of three members, one to be elected from the county polling the smaller vote. In the senatorial districts of one county, and in districts wholly within one county and partly within one and partly within another, it shall consist of three members elected from the district. The senatorial committee shall meet and organize within thirty days after its election.

The congressional committee shall consist of the county chairman of the counties in the congressional district. In districts wholly within one county, or partly in one county and partly in another, the committee shall consist of the precinct committeemen in the district.

The city committee shall consist of the precinct committeemen within the city.

The various political party committees now in existence are recognized and confirmed and shall exercise all powers given by the act until their successors are elected.

Conventions Under New Law.

On the second Wednesday after the April primary, each county central committee shall meet at the county seat and elect from its own members a chairman and other officers. ## Draws Judge Who Tries Him.

Astounding Nerve of English Artist Accused of Killing a Young Woman of the Street.

Public interest in London lately has been engrossed with a murder trial which, so far as its details are concerned, has been a masterpiece of the arts, and outside the court daily gathered thousands whose tense interest led them to indulge in demonstrations that have recalled the days when the whole population of the usually staid city went mad over the news of the relief of Mafeking.

After being out only fifteen minutes the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in favor of Robert Wood, the young artist who was charged with the murder of Phyllis Dimmock, a woman of the street. The demonstrations began in the courtroom itself, cheer after cheer greeting the verdict and even the barristers joining. In fact, the only man in court who preserved calmness was the prisoner himself.

If the case was remarkable, still more remarkable was the man around whom it centered. Throughout he was cool, calm and collected, showing no emotion. Cheerfully he answered the searching cross examination by Sir Charles Matthews and quite held his own with that practiced barrister.

While the jury was absent deciding the question of his life or death he sat back composedly in the dock, making a pencil sketch of the judge. "You must not do that," said an usher, tapping Wood on the shoulder, and the prisoner shrugged his shoulders, crossed one knee over the other and smiled.

Miss Dimmock, the murdered woman, lived at St. Paul's road, Camden Town, with a man named Bertram Shaw. Wood stated that the first time he ever saw the girl was in a public house in Easton road on the evening of Friday, Sept. 4, when they had a conversation about a picture post card which he promised to send her. On the following Monday evening the two met again at the public house. On Wednesday morning, Miss Dimmock received a letter making an appointment for that evening. She went out during the evening, presumably to keep the appointment. It was 11:30 on the next morning that Shaw, entering the room on returning home from a night's work as a train attendant, found her lying dead on the bed with her throat cut. The finding of the post card led to Wood's arrest. No other evidence was found against him.

When he left the court a free man, 10,000 voices hailed him as a hero. He bowed his acknowledgments as if he had been a monarch accustomed to the somewhat fervid enthusiasm of the populace.

Society Girl a Shoplifter.

Pittsburg Belle, Wooed by Many Millionaires, Elopes With an Alleged Bigamist, Who Makes Her His Slave and Teaches Her to Steal.

Only nine months ago a leading figure in the younger set in Pittsburg society, Miss Mabel Hall, nineteen years old, daughter of Professor E. A. Hall, was recently locked up in a police headquarters on a charge of shoplifting. The girl was arrested in a flat with Frederick Allerton, also known as Clarke, with whom she eloped last spring, and another woman, who said she was Georgene Allerton and who is alleged to be Allerton's first wife. Miss Hall eloped to New York with Allerton, and following their return to Pittsburg she said her bridegroom confessed he already had a wife and introduced Georgene Allerton as wife No. 1. Miss Hall also told the police that the Allertons had taught her to steal.

Many of the old social friends of the young woman called at police headquarters to offer their assistance, but she refused to see any of them. Several said they would provide bail to any amount. There was an affecting meeting between father and daughter. Soon after the elopement Professor infatuation, but all in vain, and the climax was reached with the elopement to New York. Miss Hall went away with $500 in cash and jewels valued at $1,500. She charged that Allerton had got both money and jewels and that almost from the day of their elopement she was absolutely dependent upon him. She said her happiness was unclouded until she returned from New York. She imagined her husband loved her dearly, and she was filled with a hope of winning the approval of her father to her choice. She said it was her greatest ambition to prove to her father that he had been mistaken in his judgment of Allerton, but hardly had she reached Pittsburg from New York than her dreams were dispelled.

Allerton drove to an apartment, and the girl found a woman there. A tragic scene followed, and Miss Hall, demanding an explanation, was informed that she had been the victim of a plot. She told the police her humiliation and remorse were so great that she could not summon courage to go to Hall. It was said, forbade his daughter to enter his home, and they did not see each other again until they met in police headquarters. Professor Hall conducts one of the most exclusive private schools in the city and has prepared the majority of the Pittsburg young men of millions for the universities. His daughter, possessed of unusual beauty, was the object of attention from many young millionaires, and her engagement to a member of a family known in the steel trade was reported when she eloped with Allerton, then posing under the name of Clarke.

Miss Hall met the man in a private dancing school. He paid court to Miss Hall from the start, and the girl invited him to her home. Professor Hall met Allerton and took an intense dislike to him. He informed his daughter she would have to cease encouraging him, and in reply she declared her intention to marry the young man. Hall tried to cure his daughter of her

STATE'S GAME FARM

An Experiment That Is a Success After a Cood Deal of Ridicule.

HARDENED JOKE ITS AUTHORITY

But the Enterprise Is No Joke—Some of the Things Accomplished in Stocking Illinois with Game Birds.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—Near the village of Auburn, sixteen miles south of the capital, is one of the most interesting institutions owned by the commonwealth of Illinois. It is the state game farm, and as an experiment in the work of preserving, propagating and increasing the game of a vast extent of territory, its progress is being watched with interest by sportsmen, naturalists and all lovers of out-door life.

Augustus Noble, once a member of the legislature, and an inveterate joker, is credited with being responsible for the state game farm. Years ago it was the delight of Noble to fill the ears of new and credulous members of the assembly with misinformation regarding the privileges and perquisites of legislators and to send them in search of all manner of articles.

One day a new member came late to the secretary of state's office and asked for an order for a bird dog. Mr. Noble, he said, had informed him that the state had a game farm, where bird dogs were bred and that every member of the assembly was entitled to one. The story got out and the unfortunate victim of the joke was for a long time the butt of legislative ridicule.

The story of the game farm became stock legislative gossip. Whether it afterwards suggested the establishment of a farm for the propagation of game is not known certainly, but Noble's fanciful tale to the untold member will always be accounted the beginning of the present institution. What was then regarded as a most ridiculous absurdity, is today a substantial, sober reality. There is nothing suggestive of levity in the Illinois state game farm.

Real Farm Established.

The preserve was established by Dr. John A. Wheeler, the state game commissioner. It consists of a tract of 400 acres of which 200 acres are enclosed with wire netting. The situation is an ideal one for game propagation, the land being well drained and abundantly supplied with forest trees which give protection to the young birds in summer. An effort has been made to preserve, so far as possible, the natural condition of the land. On the farm are two cottages, occupied by the head game keepers. There are also two tents which are occupied in the summer months by assistant keepers. The latter are required to sleep in the rear field of the young birds, as a protection against vermin which would prey upon the birds and to be of assistance during the heavy rain and wind storms. The heavy rain and wind are afforded by an additional protection side the fence a kennel of dogs out every once.

On the 100 acres of bird is represented the preserve. A specialty is made of raising wild turkeys, wild geese, wild ducks, Hungarian partridges, both white quail and English and Chinese ring neck pheasants. This year nearly twelve thousand pheasant hens will be kept on the farm. This number of hens should, within a year, lay in the neighborhood of sixty thousand eggs. Last season between seven and eight thousand pheasants and twenty thousand eggs were distributed throughout the state.

The species of pheasants on the farm at the present time of the fancy or aviary varieties are the phasianus Mongolian pheasant, Phasianus versicolor or green Japanese pheasant, Phasianus reevesii or Reeves pheasant, Thaumalea picta or golden pheasant, Thaumalea amherstiae or Lady Amherst pheasant, Euplocamus nythemus or silver pheasant, Crossoplon manchuricum or fared pheasant, Lophophanes impeyanus or impeyan pheasant, Calophapsis ellioti, or Elliot's pheasant and the melanotos or black pheasant. Among the pheasants which are known as the game pheasant and which are sent out by the department to the various counties in the state are the Phasianus chukchicus or common pheasant, the Phasianus torquatus or Chinese ring neck pheasant and English ring neck pheasant.

Farm Will Distribute Thousands. It is expected by the department that they will be able to distribute 6,000 Hungarian partridges and from 12,000 to 15,000 pheasants in the state from their own rearing this year.

The pens in which the pheasants are kept for breeding purposes are twelve by sixteen feet. In each pen is placed a pheasant cock and from three to five hens. The birds are fed and watered twice a day while in these pens. The eggs from the breeding pens are gathered every night, each pen being numbered and the eggs from the pens set down in a book kept for that purpose. The pheasants kept in confinement average from forty to fifty eggs during the season. Pheasant hens are never allowed to set on their eggs when in captivity. This ensures laying throughout the season. The eggs are hatched out under the common horn yard hen. A medium sized barred rock hen, it is found, makes the best mother for young pheasants. Great care is taken in feeding the pheasant. For days after they are hatched the much increased number of birds next year it is thought by parliament that an open season given next year on the cock pheasant. Another game bird which has been imported for distribution throughout Illinois and especially in northern counties is the Perdix or northern quail. This bird will thrive under adverse conditions; offers the game for the gunner and is a valuable value to the farmer as a destroyer. It is about the size of a quail, but its color is much more like a quail. Its flight is about as fast as a quail.

Becomes a Favorite. The Hungarian partridge, over European and Central Asia is found in Italy as well as in Scandinavia, thereby showing adaptability to climates. This bird rarely wanders away from the spot which it was born, nor does it stray away. This characteristic with its extra hardness, its prolificacy, makes the most perfect game bird for shooting the state. It lies well to the sitting dog and when flushed, as a rule, the coveys, thus allowing a sportsman work his dog on slugs birds, while greatly increasing the pleasure of the gunner.

The hen has hatched the several trial hatches conducted to preserve, and as a result the former is now used exclusively. One hundred hens are in general use for setting purposes. An average of from sixty to sixty-five birds are generally secured from 100.

Probably the hardest bird to raise and keep is the common prairie chicken. After an extensive search of America and Canada last year in an effort to secure some of this species, twenty-five eggs were secured and the result was fifteen chickens. The chicks appeared to be as tame as the ordinary hen's product and because of this the attendants neglected to clip their wings and when they were sufficiently old they flew away. Trapping, under the supervision of the farm, is in progress now in an effort to secure another consignment of this bird.

Birds Are Fed Carefully.

The feeding of birds on the farm is a quite delicate matter and is looked after with particular attention. One injudicious feeding when the birds were young is known to have killed hundreds of them. For the first ten days the young smaller birds are fed on custard and stale bread crumbs. Then follows a saving diet of prepared meals. When the birds reach the age of one month they are fed canary and hemp seed. After a ten day feed of this their stomachs are supposed to have become accustomed to general food and they are given a range run on the farm, where small grains and weed seeds are plentiful.

The Farm Is Not Without Its Perils.

The worst of these is the common house cat. In the first eighteen months the farm was in operation many of them were killed by the attendants. Other pests quite troublesome on the preserve are the weasel, mink, rat, skunk, opossum, coon, blue jay owl and hawk. There is a grove nearby the farm that in the winter months shelters a million crows.

The farm is located quite conveniently, and as a consequence visitors are numerous. In the summer months it presents most picturesque appearance.

Dr. J. Wheeler is the present game commissioner. He has deputies in every city who aid in the enforcement of the game laws.

MINUTE RECONVENE

Failure of Joint Committee of Operations to Meet in Conn. to an adjournment.

Indianapolis, Feb. 20.—The national convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which was reconvened in Indianapolis, Feb. 12, was adjourned by the joint committee of the convention and miners of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, using the central committee as a basis for agreement on the proposition to call a joint convention to reconvene the international union into effect April 1 of the present year. The final dissent is the climax to months of an ill-tempered and strategic fight. The joint meeting was held in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., on the 12th of February. The miners of the union, both sides of the country will meet March 31.
